Two Business Places Sold

Through the office of Real Estate Broker I. Paradise of 19 Railroad avenue, this city, the Welcome Inn, owned by Mrs. Mary Schellman, has been sold completely furnished to Mr. and Mrs. William Cronrath of 910 Amsterdam avenue New York city. The property is located at Archon, across from the railroad station, and is considered one of the best places in that part of the city. The house has all improvements and has been used for a number of years as a tourist inn, and did business. The Schellmans were highly esteemed and will be greatly missed in the section. They have moved to Hoboken for a time but will return to this section as soon as they can find some place that will meet their requirements. This is the fourth property they have owned in this section and the same broker has sold and resold them.

Mr. and Mrs. George Koch, who owned the property at No. 9 Wurts street, sold it Tuesday and possession has been given to Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Pletschker of 346 East 79th street, New York city. The property consisted of a brick residence with a store into which the business was carried on selling light groceries, cream, cigars, etc. The new owner will carry on the same business. Mr. and Mrs. Koch were also owners of a four family house in this city which the same broker sold last month. Mr. Koch has moved to Hartford, Conn., where he will engage in a boarding house business.

Wales' Bride?

Reports from Europe said King Alfonso of Spain hoped to arrange a wedding of his daughter, Beatrice, and the Prince of Wales.

Trimings That Add to Appearance of New Hats

A graceful, wide-brimmed hat of black malines is faced with shell pink tulle which also passes around the crown and forms a flat, folded bow on one side—flattering to most faces. Black malines is faced with black tulle and trimmed with silvered vulture plumage—extremely smart.

Black ballbunt straw is faced with king blue crepe and trimmed with grapes and apples made of silk and velvet.

Suzanne Talbot in Paris trimmed a green horsehair hat with one large red ribbon poppy on the right side, with the green stem twisting round the crown.

Gilt flowers and leaves are used to trim a hat made of mauve tulle and straw.

Heavy Wash Silks

A line of wash silk sports dresses for summer, made of spun silk broadcloth, are very dignified, with tucks and pearl buttons as their only elaboration. The quality of the material adds greatly to their appearance, as it has a great deal of body and stands up well. Models show white and an eye for that, but all the sports shades will be available. These dresses are cut on straight lines with long sleeves and turnover collar with which a tie may be worn.

Theater Acoustics

Theater audiences can hear much better in a full house than in one with many empty seats, according to Prof. F. B. Watson, authority on acoustics, of the University of Illinois. In his research on sound he has found that thickly carpeted floors, heavy draperies and plush seats in theaters make for better hearing conditions on account of their sound-absorbing qualities, and the clothing of the audience adds in the same way. Small theaters with their side walls broken by boxes draped with sound-absorbing material really provide the best acoustics for the spoken drama, he asserts.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

BARNYARD QUARRELS

Once again Sharpy and the Blue Jay were having a quarrel.

"You're noted for stealing any way, Mr. Blue Jay."

"Why I never steal," said Mr. Blue Jay.

"How can you say such a thing?" said Sharpy.

"You're noted for stealing!" said Sharpy. "You're absolutely famous for it! You are a terrible thief!"

Mrs. Sharpy and all the little squirrels called out:

"Thief! Thief!" "Thief! Thief!" "I'm not a thief. You're the one to be called a thief. The whole world knows the Squirrel family love to steal!"

"They know the same thing about the Blue Jay family."

Of course all the animals were much amused at this quarrel, for both the Blue Jays and the Squirrels are known to be great thieves, and they both love to scold and quarrel.

Their quarrels are very entertaining, so the other creatures love to hear them.

"Ha, ha!" shrieked Mrs. Sharpy. "I've found the berries!"

"Where?" asked Sharpy.

Mr. Blue Jay did not say a word for he had stolen them, and while he had been quarreling with Sharpy, Mrs. Sharpy had found them in his nest!

"Now what have you to say, Mr. Blue Jay?" said Mrs. Sharpy.

"That you're very mean to take my berries from my nest. But I'll look for my own dinner now, and please don't come and steal it. You're great thieves!"

"No more so than you," laughed Sharpy, "and if we feel hungry later on we are very likely to steal your dinner!"

As the Squirrels sat on their hind legs eating the berries, the other animals said:

"Blue Jays and Squirrels are just alike."

But now Sir William Goat and Peacock were having a quarrel.

Sir William Goat, who was the leader of all the goats and one of the very finest of the animals in the barnyard, felt like a king and thought his horns were equal to any crown.

This Peacock was a new one who had just arrived. The old Peacock knew better, but the new one called out:

"Hello, Billy." Now the new arrival was a very fine peacock. He came with his train way out behind him and the sun shone down and made all the colors dazzle with brightness.

To himself he was thinking:

"These poor, dull barnyard animals have few chances to see so fine a bird as I am."

He thought this to himself as he strutted about proudly.

But he also was anxious to be well liked and to be thought well of by these animals. That was the reason he had called out "Hello, Billy." In what he thought was a friendly manner, not knowing how superior the goat felt himself to be.

Well, Sir William was mad. He was raging. He was as mad as a goat can be—and had there not been a fence between him and the peacock, I am afraid his angry horns might have badly hurt the peacock. Instead he called out:

"Proud as a peacock, vain as a peacock. Proud peacock, vain peacock. 'Oh, please sir, what have I done?'"

Now Sir William was already feeling better because the peacock had called him sir, and now the old peacock had come up to explain matters to the new arrival. Then Mrs. Gray Dove had come along, telling them how silly it was to quarrel.

"Let's each be called what he wishes to be called, and let's all look for the good points in others, instead of for the bad ones."

"We're far more apt to find them if we look for them. They want to be found and are ready to be found by those who look for them."

The peacock's train drooped and the goat hung his head in shame, but after that these two animals became fast friends.

And Mrs. Gray Dove was contented and happy once more.

A Big Surprise for Everybody.

KEEP COOL WITH GEYSER AND HATHORNNatural Sparkling Waters Bottled
at State Owned Saratoga Springs
Under State Supervision

Acid indigestion is most disturbing in hot weather, when the stomach is sour and gassy, caused by too much acidity. The whole digestive process is disturbed and extra burden is put on the heart. Panting for breath and excessive perspiration are common.

Geyser water neutralizes acidity, relieves indigestion, eliminates gas, corrects the sourness, and by so doing helps to relieve the system of the causes of the excessive feeling of the heat.

Hathorn, the natural laxative water, taken upon arising in the morning, thoroughly cleanses the whole digestive tract, which in itself enables the body to endure the heat without being so much affected.

Both Geyser and Hathorn are delightful in taste and very beneficial to health. Ask your doctor about them.

There are only three State Owned naturally carbonated waters bottled at Saratoga Springs under State supervision. These are Geyser, Hathorn and Coesa. Ask for them by name and insist on getting the genuine.

Sold in Borst Grocery Co.'s store, and by other high-class dealers.

Crusaders Will Visit Kingston

A column of ten young Englishmen, members of the Church Army, an organization in the Church of England engaged in much the same endeavor as the Salvation Army, will be in Kingston Thursday and Friday, July 8 and 9. They will be the guests of Holy Cross parish, making their billets in Holy Cross Parish House, and conducting evangelical services in Holy Cross Church Thursday evening and Friday afternoon and evening. They will preach on the street before the services and will do personal work during the day.

The Army carries its own band. The crusaders have come to America at the special invitation of the Bishops of Washington, Maryland, Delaware, Philadelphia, New Jersey, New York, Albany, and Central New York, and are making a campaign through their dioceses. They will visit but three towns in the diocese of New York, Newburgh, Kingston and Hudson, spending two days in each of the first two towns and one in the last.

Last year a like column made a campaign through the New England dioceses at the request of the bishops. They come with the goodwill and sanction of the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Bishop of London, at the special invitation of the Bishop of New York, and come to Kingston at the behest of Father Mabry, the rector of Holy Cross. All the young men are graduates of the Church Army Training College in London and hold the Archbishop of Canterbury's license as lay evangelists. Their appeal is to the non-church-goer outside and for a full measure of service from the inside.

LAST NIGHT
on THE RADIO

Early birds got the cream of early reception last night from WGI, WJZ and WEA. Later a rising tide of fading, distortion and static impaired mid-evening reception to a great extent.

Despite all this Chicago stations could be heard at about 10 o'clock. WCBD was better than it has been in some time and even Atlanta was among these present.

WBBM, after 10 o'clock, was irrepresible. WBYA, in Richmond, produced an orchestra playing national airs wonderfully well, dedicated to "our Canadian friends." Strangely it failed to play "Nobody Knows How Dry I Am," the most expressive national air of a large part of the people.

WBAL, Baltimore, was at its best. One of its features was a tenor who could really sing.

WEAN, Allentown, Pa. was another station that was clear.

From the above it is apparent that it was a great night for listeners among the short waves.

WJL, Detroit, while not strong, was very clear at 11 o'clock. WTAM, Cleveland, was much stronger and equally clear, with a bass voice whose voice almost shook the loud speaker apart.

WNAS, Louisville, gave a concert by the 135th Field Artillery Band, closing with "The Star Spangled Banner" and signing off at 11:05 with the inevitable "Old Kentucky Home" on the chimes as clear and loud as it was ever heard in mid-winter. Neither WHT nor WOR was in operation at the time, which accounts for both clarity and volume.

This is one of the compensations of radio in summer—so many stations are silent that those in operation are less hampered by interference.

WCC, the old reliable at Davenport, was weak. WRC, not so reliable in Washington, was unusually strong. WCCO, Minneapolis, often none too strong in winter, was very satisfactory. Here you have an illustration in a paragraph of the various prices of radio.

And WUPP, Miami Beach, which persisted all through last summer, seems to have taken a deep dip about two months ago and never comes up.

KDKA did a most creditable come-back with its late concert.

Code interference, not KSD reception out of bounds, most of the time as it often does, and KSD cannot be reached very often in summer. But the code couldn't put WJZ out.

WCBD was good from beginning to the final "Peace be Unto You" of the announcer.

With a good start, a bad hour in the middle and amazing recovery, the night was one hard to beat even in winter.

DECKER & FOWLER OCCUPY ADDITIONAL OFFICES

Decker & Fowler have taken over the offices in what is known as the Hasbrouck building, 41 Main street, formerly occupied by Dr. S. Castillo, dentist. These rooms are across the hall from their offices and because of the increase in their fire, life, accident and automobile insurance and real estate business it became necessary that they enlarge their office room.

Dr. Castillo, who conducted his dentistry there for eleven years, has stored his furniture and fixtures pending the securing of a desirable location. He will continue to make his home at 81 Green street. Since locating in Kingston Dr. Castillo has made a large number of friends through business affiliations and socially. While he has a number of offerings to locate elsewhere, he prefers to remain here because of pleasant associations formed.

SEEK RELEASE OF SPANISH DOCTOR

Paris, July 2.—Twenty-seven well known Spanish physicians petitioned General Primo de Rivera today to release Dr. Narasón, a leader in Spanish medicine, and one of the numerous individuals imprisoned following the discovery of a conspiracy to overthrow the government, according to advices from Madrid.

The premier replying to the petition said that while "all Spaniards enjoy the liberty of philosophy, science, artistic and political thought, no one, not even Narasón, has the right to defend the persons who constitute the government."

HAD WRONG IDEA; LIFE WAS RUINED

War Wall Inventor Tasted Height of Success and Depth of Failure.

Toronto, Ont.—In an obscure back-woods village north of here there died the other day a man, who, within the short space of a few months, traveled the long road from the height of success to the depth of condemnation— all because an idea went wrong.

The man was Murray Compton, farmer and inventor, who had his one big chance while a captain of infantry in the Canadian expedition force, and went to a premature grave with the curses of hundreds of dying Canadian soldiers ringing in his ears.

For Murray Compton was the originator of "China Wall," that stupendous blunder which was designed to save the lives of soldiers but which became a trap in which many hundreds were killed.

Compton's battalion was doing duty in the Ypres sector in the spring of 1916. From the ramparts, in Ypres city, to the front line the soldiers were exposed to a withering shell and machine-gun fire while going to and from the line. The distance was somewhat more than a mile, but ration and working parties, as well as battalions going into or coming out of the line, suffered terribly. The troops had the choice of two routes: the one up Menin road, which was a veritable deathtrap, and the other through Zillebeke village. Most of them chose the latter route, for it accorded slight protection.

Chinese Wall Recalled.
While leading his company in and out of the line Compton became horrified at the number of casualties and his inventive brain sought some method of reducing the loss of life. Suddenly he was confronted with a mental picture of the great wall of China, which for centuries had kept out enemies of the yellow men.

Compton was practical enough to realize that time prevented the erection of a wall which would correspond with the original.

He submitted his rough idea to his colonel, who approved it and sent it to brigade headquarters. From there it went to division and then corps headquarters. Here it was turned over to the commanding officer of the engineers, whose approval hastened construction.

Night after night, for many weeks, weary working parties filled sandbags which were pounded into the form of huge bricks and laid end to end to form a great wall. Weeks of ceaseless activity saw the task completed without interruption from the enemy.

Casualties Much Reduced.
The wall stood for weeks, the admiration of every soldier who found protection behind its friendly shadow. Casualties were reduced to a minimum and Compton was showered with honors. He was mentioned in dispatches and decorated with the military cross.

Come the 2nd of June, that fateful day when the German high command concentrated everything on a terrific drive, which was calculated to drive a wedge in the British lines and open up a route to the channel ports.

The bombardment was the worst experienced by any troops up to that period. Trenches were obliterated, men killed by hundreds, while wave after wave of German infantry was thrown into the attack in an endeavor to break the Canadian line. Telegraph communication with the rear was impossible and several runners were killed before word could be relayed back to Ypres to "send re-enforcements."

Germans Bombard Wall.

Battalion after battalion was hurried up from rest camps in motor lorries, dumped off in Ypres and then started up the line. As soon as German observation balloons and planes observed troops being concentrated in the rear, they signaled the German artillery and the barrage was turned on the China wall.

Thousands of men had congregated behind this wall, awaiting darkness before being thrown into the breach. In five minutes the bombardment reduced the wall to a mass of twisted and torn sandbags and practically every man behind it had been killed or wounded.

In spite of this great disaster the front-line troops held on grimly. For two days and nights they withstood the incomparable inferno before fresh troops relieved them. But the way to the sea had been blocked.

Ironically, Compton was commanding a company of reserves which had taken refuge behind his creation when the German bombardment began. By another strange twist of fate he was one of the few men who were permitted to escape being killed or wounded.

Escapes Without Wounds.
A merciful command relieved Compton of his duties and his name was posted on the casualty list as "wounded." Some of his own men who saw him going out of the line for the last time said he did not show a scratch. But his nerve was broken and his great plan had crashed.

He was mustered out of the army and sent back to Canada. He went back to his farm, but his neighbors saw a mighty change. His eyes were wild and vacant and he kept mumbling to himself.

They didn't know the reason till he died.

An advocate of large families should always have one, that is his best argument.

"BITIN' AND GOUGIN'" TOO MUCH FOR BEAR

Pioneer Easy Victor in Rough and Tumble.

An idea of the early pioneer's notion of "playful" antics may be obtained in the following incident related by Rev. J. B. Finley, a pioneer preacher in Kentucky and the Ohio valley, says Arthur Woodward, in Adventure Magazine.

According to Finley, one of the principal meats of the backwoodsmen and their families was that of the black bear. In the fall of the year, when the beechnuts were about ripe, the Kentucky hunter repaired to the place where the beech trees were thickest, for the nuts from those trees were especially liked by him.

Before the nuts were ripe, the bears often climbed the trees and raked the nuts from the branches. This was called looting by the settlers. While the animal was thus engaged, it was an easy matter for the bear hunter to steal upon the unsuspecting bear and shoot him.

One autumn day a Kentucky emigrant, whose name is not recorded, went into the woods with his ax to cut a broomstick and, observing a bear in a tree, decided that it would be an easy matter to climb up behind the engrossed animal and slay him with the ax.

He reached the foot of the tree all right, but, to his surprise, Mr. Bear didn't wait for him to make the climb, but slid down the trunk and confronted the alarmed man. He swung his ax valiantly, but the bear, stretching out a huge paw, warded off the blow and seized the man's left arm with his teeth. In retaliation, the borderman played border tactics of a rough-and-tumble fight and promptly set his teeth into the bear's nose.

In the ensuing struggle the heavy weight of the bear threw the man to the ground. Again the fighting custom of the frontier was brought into play. The man used his thumb and calmly gouged out both eyes of the brute. The doleful screams of the agonized animal brought aid to the frontiersman and bruin was soon dispatched.

In after years the man who had thus unceremoniously fought his shaggy foe was asked by a friend who came to visit him:

"Well, how do you and the bears make it?"
The Kentuckian laughed.
"H—ll," he said, "they can't stand Kentucky play. 'Bitin' an' gougin' air too hard fer 'em."

Telling Him Off
In the kindness of his heart Mr. McGregor Smith opened an account for his wife at the local bank. A few months later the manager, Mr. Jones, meeting him, remarked, "Would you kindly tell your wife that her account is overdrawn?" The news was duly passed to Mrs. Smith, and next morning she handed her husband a sealed envelope addressed to Mr. Jones, requesting him to deliver it. The manager, having opened the letter, remarked, "Perhaps you would like to see what your wife says," and handed the contents of the envelope to Mr. Smith. It was a half-sheet of note-paper, on which was written in large letters, "Sneak."

The Essay
Is, then, the essay in literature a thing which simply stands outside classification, like Argon among the elements, of which the only thing which can be predicted is that it is there? Or like Justice in Plato's republic, a thing which the talkers set out to define, and which ends by being the one thing left in a state when the definable qualities are taken away? No, it is not that. It is rather like what is called an organ prelude, a little piece with a theme, not very strict perhaps in form, but which can be fancifully treated, modulated from, and cried at will.—A. C. Benson.

What Really Counts

WHAT ARE INSTALLMENT SHARES?

Simply this—shares purchased on the installment plan. A payment of one dollar a month (the first month $1.25) purchases one Installment Share.

This Share becomes MATURED—fully purchased—when these monthly payments PLUS the earnings or dividends on the same equal $200. The holder then receives in cash from us $200 for each matured share.

We are not permitted to guarantee the number of payments required to mature a share, but our experience of more than 30 years shows that it takes approximately 144 monthly payments to mature an Installment Share.

This means that $1.00 a month for 144 months or $144, earns $56, profits or dividends. Our DIVIDENDS are compounded semi-annually and our last dividend was at the rate of 5 1/2% a year.

FIVE Shares would mean paying in $5.00 a month and drawing out $1,000, at maturity. TEN Shares—$10 a month and receiving $2,000.

These shares may be withdrawn at any time before maturity, the Association paying back all your deposits plus 90% of the dividends credited.

These Installment Shares are especially designed to meet the systematic savings desires of the salaried person or wage earner. The number of shares purchased is readily adjusted to the portion of salary or wages one feels able to save regularly.

A new Issue or Series (69-A) of these Installment shares commences July 2.

The Kingston Co-operative Savings & Loan Association, 293 Wall Street, Kingston, N. Y.

Regular Monthly Meeting will be held July 2, from 7:30 to 9 P. M., at the above address.

WHAT ARE PREPAID SHARES?

Simply this—Shares fully purchased in one payment. Under the State Banking Law—which controls all our business—these shares cost $100 each, plus an entrance fee of 25 cents a share. Purchase as many shares as you wish.

DIVIDENDS are declared semi-annually. Part of such dividends may be demanded in cash and the balance is added to the value of the shares, or, at the holder's option, all the dividends may be accumulated and all accumulations are compounded, very much the same, you observe, as depositing in a Savings Bank.

OUR last dividend rate, however, was 5 1/2% and for many years past, our dividend rates has been 5%. These PREPAID SHARES, with their accumulated dividends to date may be withdrawn at any time, on demand.

Our money is invested in first mortgages on improved real estate—mostly in Kingston—and all mortgages are repaid in monthly installments of principal and interest—$1.00 a month for each $100 borrowed.

This is a safe method of loaning—an easy way of paying back the loan.

Our purpose is to help the borrower become a HOME OWNER and at the same time to offer the investor a good return for the use of his money which is loaned to the borrowing member. Our method accomplishes both of these purposes. More than 30 years of business in Kingston has proved this assertion.

PREPAID SHARES purchased by July 10 will draw dividends from July 1.

Farm Issue May Bring New Party

Farm Bloc to Continue Fight Irreconcilable of Party Lines—Issue May Bring Coalition Between South and West.

Washington, July 2.—The "Farm Bloc" bitter over the defeat administered to its cherished McNary-Haugen bill by the Coolidge administration, threatened today to copy the tactics of the Anti-Saloon League and deal out punishment or reward at the polls, irrespective of party affiliation.

If carried out, and corn belt spokesmen say it will be, it means that the fight for farm relief has outgrown party lines, just as the wet-and-dry issue has, or the fight for and against the World Court, and it constitutes a real menace to the Republican domination of the grain states of the middle west.

Rep. L. J. Dickinson (R.) of Iowa, is leader of the farm bloc in the House. He is "regular" today he made this announcement:

"We are going to advise the farm organizations to see that members of congress elected in November are committed to a program of real farm relief, which must embody the principle of equality for agriculture under our economic system."

"Real farm relief" means the McNary-Haugen equalization bill, which was endorsed by Vice-President Dawes and Ex-Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, both potential presidential candidates in 1928, and which President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon both denounced as "economically unsound."

"If this fight progresses along present lines, as it apparently must, it means in the end a new political alignment—the agricultural west combining with the agricultural south irrespective of party labels."

The reference to a coalition between the Democratic agriculture south and the Republican agricultural west was significant. It is in line with the political theories of a considerable number of Democratic leaders, who see in such a coalition the only hope of overcoming the domination of the conservative, tariff-protected industrialists of the east.

Robert Welsberg, of New York, has rented the small cottage of E. S. Tompkins, recently owned by Steve O'Connor.

Work is progressing rapidly on the repairs to the Pine Hill Lake dam, and it is expected that the water will be turned in within the next few days.

T. S. Cole and Mr. and Mrs. John France, of Kingston, and Miss J. F. Hawkins, of Brooklyn, were guests at the Pine Hill Arms over the week end.

The pupils and teachers of Weinstadt Summer School at Highmount will arrive at the place on Friday.

"Safety First" Motoring Appeal

Motorists of Nation are Urged to He-double Precautions in Order to Minimize Accidents on July 4—
A. A. A. Anticipates Heaviest Traffic on Record.

Washington, D. C., July 2.—In anticipation of a record-breaking volume of traffic throughout the nation on the holidays from July 3rd to 5th, the American Automobile Association broadcast a "safety first" appeal to the motorists of the country today and strongly urged every car owner to intensify his normal precautions in order that accidents on the highways may be kept down.

"Make this a Safety Fourth," ran the warning of the national motoring body, which pointed out that because Independence Day coincides this year with the week-end and because of the increase in motor traffic, more people than ever before will take to road.

"The occasion," said the A. A. A. statement, "provides the motorists with a ready-made opportunity to demonstrate in a practical fashion their interest in public safety. They should make up their minds before leaving home that they will encounter heavy congestion, and forewarned should mean forearmed."

"There will be many factors in the situation over July 4th that call for the maximum of safe-driving.
There will be the usual crop of inexperienced drivers, who seldom get behind the wheel, except on holidays.
More trains will be running and the hundreds of additional excursion trains will render caution at grade crossings doubly imperative. More children will be on the streets and everywhere the motorist will encounter picnic parties shooting out of lanes and secondary roads opening upon trunk highways."

"With business largely shut down from Saturday afternoon until Tuesday morning, the motorists have an excellent chance to put their cars to prolonged use as a means of recreation.
It is proper that they do so,
but from the national standpoint it is of greater importance that we should be able to celebrate a minimum of needless accidents and mishaps."

Some Safety Precautions.
Here are some of the safety precautions advised by the A. A. A. in connection with motor travel over the Fourth:

"Remember that thousands of drivers are on their first tour and make allowances for their shortcomings."

"Start early if you must reach your destination at a certain hour, and thus eliminate the necessity for fast driving."

"Keep to your own side of the road. Horn at the top of hills and at turns where vision is obstructed.
Turn into a sideroad when making repairs, and don't park on the travelled portions of rural highways."

"Familiarize yourself with traffic regulations in cities and towns which you plan to pass through."

"Remember that more accidents occur in open country than on city streets, and that there are more of them in daylight than at night."

"Don't exceed a speed of 25 miles an hour on strange roads after dark.
Failure to apply this rule causes many collisions with cars coming out of side roads and lanes, journeying home from picnic parties."

"Be especially vigilant late in the afternoon when people are becoming tired and less wary."

"Inspect your car, don't go unprepared; see that everything is shipshape."

"Don't let the firecracker accidents of old days be replaced by automobile mishaps of today."

"Call Again"

We were building a new home and had hired a man to dig the trench for the water main in our yard. I had been waiting for him to come all morning, when at noon time I heard a rap and went to the door. A well-dressed gentleman was there, and I said, "I have been looking for you all morning," and pointed out the place where my husband wanted the main laid.

"Well," he said, "I didn't come to dig the trench, but was in the neighborhood looking over the water-main situation, as I am superintendent of the plant."

My face reddened, and forgetting myself completely, I said, "Oh, thank you; I hope you will call again soon."
—F. L. R., in Chicago Tribune.

Smith Name Ancient

The great family of Smiths bear a name which is not only commonest, but the oldest in the world. Professor Mahaffy, when deciphering the Pictish pagel, came upon one bearing the name of Smith, unmistakably written.

"We have never," he says, "found anything like it before, and it is surprisingly telling the many distinguished bearers of the name that there was a man known as Smith in the twelfth century of the third Pictish 227 years B. C., and that he was occupied in brewing and selling beer."

Not So Monotonous

"What a tiresome, monotonous place," cried a young salesman from the city, who was marooned in the hamlet of Torpitt. "Nothing to do, nothing to see, and—"

"Aw, I know," responded the landlord of the tavern. "If you want for the chance you can probably get drunk on champagne thicker and have a fight whether you want it or not. You can play checkers with a member of the legislature and not lose anything, but your self-respect, and you can read Sir Lawrence's button-holders and learn yourself to death, and then go to bed."—Kansas City Star.

The Funny Part

"Funny thing happened at my house last night," in the Doogie Holler post office, related Toby Sagg of Sandy Mush. "A couple of my boys got hold of an old pistol of mine and went to playing they were movie actors. Directly one of 'em raved back and bleeded through his clenched teeth.
'Gimme the papers or I'll tear up the child.' The other one cocked his pistol. 'Hold on, there,' says I. 'That devilish thing ought to be loaded.' 'Aw, now, it ain't,' says he, and aiming it right at the other one's head, he pulled the trigger. Well, sir, it was right funny, and—"

"Do you call it funny for one little boy to shoot another in the head?"
grinned the postmaster.

"No, the funny part was that the one that held the gun and said it wasn't loaded knew what he was talking about—it wasn't loaded."—Exchange

The Moon at Sea

At last up rose the moon. She made her coming apparent by sailing the stars in the southern sky, then by projecting a white mist of light over the horizon. Above her upper limb, red as fire, loomed upward, and the full orb, vast and feverish as the setting sun, settled out of the east, most clearly and solemnly, shining with her Mark and that belted her like a circle of smoke; this vanished, and by degrees perceptible to the eye, her own changed, the red chartered into gold her disk grew smaller and soon she was well above the horizon, shining with a most clear and silvery splendor, and making the sea beneath her lustrous with mild light.—W. C.

Russell.

Geologist's Lucky Day

Millon McMillan, geologist, saw a swarm of bees entering a small aperture in the wall of a canyon near Arvin, Calif. He set off a dynamite charge expecting to uncover a honeycomb. Instead he blasted into a cave containing a well-preserved human skeleton and other objects of archaeological interest. In a clay jar, he meticulously sealed, were thousands of vegetable seeds. On many of the bones there were hieroglyphs, probably carved by members of an early race. The skeleton was found right in the large cavern, seated on a ledge in the rock. A foot print in the rock measured 17 inches in length.

THE WHY, WHEN, AND WHERE OF FASHIONS

Skirts of Today and Long Ago.

There is an undercurrent of consternation in the world of dress today. The duel is on between the long skirted and the short skirted frock. The odds are with the former, but a warm summer day will reap its harvest of short-skirted dresses.

In the days of Queen Elizabeth, however, it was not merely a question of what shape of skirts, but how many. Several pairs of sleeves were allotted to each frock, the larger and more elaborate they were, the better. These sleeves were full, and puffed, quilted and padded, or slashed to reveal a glimpse of scarlet lining.

Comfort was simply banished from consideration in all phases of the sixteenth century mode. The length of the gown denoted the rank of the wearer, and therefore the costume of the reigning were tremendous in every direction, hooped out to great width and often having a train for many yards behind.

The men were no less gay in their attire, spending endless time and money upon such frivolous details as rapiers, hat buckles, rings and chains. There was a general craze for the extended hip, a fact of which women today should be impatient, so that they may retaliate with R when the hoop skirt is cited as proof of feminine follies. Breeches were stuffed with hair or wool at the hips, and then sometimes added an outside ruffle or two, for good measure.

Power of Garlic

It was an old belief that garlic exerted a beneficial influence over the magnetic compass, and sailors when using the compass were not permitted to eat garlic or onions.

(In 1926, Western Newspaper Union.)

The men who are not satisfied
Are they who eat the best?
The men who do not meet defeat
With calm, contented face.

The men who labor on and on
With minds and fingers skilled,
They are the great unthoughtful
Who plan and fight and build.

SUNDAY NIGHT SUPPER

Dishes which may be prepared beforehand, or better, served from the chafing dish, are always popular for the Sunday night meal.

Scrambled Eggs.—If limited in the number of eggs and oversupplied with those who are to be served, to make a dish of scrambled eggs extend to meet the appetites, add to the frying pan a half cupful of rice that has been well washed and drained, add enough butter to cook it, stirring until the rice is a good color, then add water or milk or a mixture of both and cook the rice until perfectly well done. Now add three to four eggs, more if more rice is used, and with the usual milk or cream and butter with seasonings one has a most satisfying dish, saving one-half of the eggs ordinarily used for such a dish.

Jellied Chicken Salad.—Put into a saucepan three cupfuls of highly seasoned chicken stock, the whites of two eggs, three tablespoonfuls of gelatin and two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice. Boil two minutes, stirring constantly. Place on the back of the range for thirty minutes then strain through a double cheesecloth.

Cover the bottom of individual molds with liquid jelly and set on ice. When firm, decorate with red and green peppers cut into fancy shapes; cover with the jelly mixture. Moisten one cupful of cooked fowl with one-half cupful of mayonnaise dressing to which a teaspoonful of dissolved gelatin has been added. Shape into balls and put a ball in each mold; fill with the jelly. Chill, unfold on lettuce and serve with mayonnaise dressing.

English Monkey.—Soak one cupful of stale bread crumbs in one cupful of milk until soft. Melt one tablespoonful of butter, add a cupful of soft cheese and when the cheese is melted add the soaked crumbs, one egg slightly beaten, salt and cayenne to taste. Cook three minutes and pour over toasted crackers or toasted bread and sprinkle with paprika.

First Atlantic Cable

In July, 1865, the first permanent Atlantic cable was laid from Valentia bay, Ireland, to Trinity bay, Newfoundland, and in September of the same year a cable that had been lost in 1865 was recovered and its laying completed. These lines were known as the Anglo-American cable, and were managed by a company of the same name. Messages are transmitted by submarine cable by means of electric currents in much the same way as messages are transmitted by land telegraph lines, but the sending and receiving instruments of the cable are more delicate and more complicated.

Map Hunting Good Game

Increase in vocabulary and fresh interest in geography are products of the interesting game of map hunting. Problems may be selected from the news of the day or from the map itself, says the Pathfinder Magazine.

For instance, what does Peking mean to the Chinese? Equipment from Peking are Xuyuan and Puyuan. The syllable "pu" or "pu" is familiar in Chinese names. So in "pu" and the meaning of "pu" means one to think of Xuyuan as Xuyuan down to Puyuan; that is, the "pu" is north and the "yuan" is south.

Eleanor Gunn
On Fashions

Lace, Even of the Metallic Persuasion, Enters Into the Design of Negligees and Even Costume Slips of the More Formal Sort.

It is a far cry from the unsightly Mother Hubbard of the long ago to the dainty negligee of today. The "wrapper" has progressed. The kimono has developed along feminine and altogether charming lines until now the stay at home, or the traveler, may be assured of appearing as well in negligee as in anything one wears, always provided, of course, that it is selected with a view to its environment.

Lace has become one of the most important considerations to those designing either negligees or more intimate things. It doesn't necessarily imply that elaborateness, even fussiness, results from the use of lace. Yet both may, of course, be the result of its introduction. The negligee that is meant for the boudoir may be pardoned a certain feminine allure, even a certain daring.

The Trousseau Must, of Course, Beat Attractive Negligee. This One is of Rose Chiffon With Silver Lace, the Rippling Collar Being Exceedingly New and Decidedly Becoming.

There are harem effects, glorified versions of the pajamas, and there are exotic colors and designs involved in things which spell sophistication, and there are equally lovely contradictions to this type of thing, beguiling feminine chiffons in plain, flowered, or ombre colorings, tucked, ruffled, and even inset with silver lace.

There are gowns which billow in long, cascading jabots from neckline to hem, or gowns which have flowing cape or panel treatments, scarfs, wrap-around effects, or the severity of a coat, made of stuffs transparent enough to glimpse the dainty lingerie slip beneath. Some of the newest negligees have a waist line, though one which is either dropped or lowered, and while a few inches may be added, they are for the most part as short for the boudoir as for the bathroom, and occasionally as elaborate.

Portrait Masks in Rubber

Portrait masks in rubber are becoming quite a craze with British society women and the originator of the fashion, a young American artist, is being kept pretty busy executing orders.

The face models are first made in clay from which a cast is taken, and the rubber features then molded in the cast. Natural colors are used for tinting purposes and give a most life-like effect. The masks, mounted on a solid base, or in a gold frame, make effective ornaments for the boudoir or salon.

N. Y. Girls Chew Gum
To Slenderize

Girls and young matrons who are beginning to "spread" no longer have to undergo starving or other inconvenient reducing methods. They can use the new plan so popular in New York society. It consists of taking a harmless medicinal ingredient, pure, is vegetable, discovered by science, which dissolves old fat cells and prevents new ones from forming. It contains an thyroid or dangerous drug. This ingredient acts quickly. If well chewed on it is incorporated in a deliciously flavored fat-reducing chewing gum called "Sands." News of society's latest method has spread all over the country and local druggists already have a supply of this gum so that our own young people can use "Sands" to KEEP slender or GET slender.

Flag Raising by Polish Citizens

Dedication and Blessing of American Flag to Be Accompanied by Appropriate and Impressive Ceremonies at Immaculate Conception Parish Grounds Sunday.

On Sunday a grand Fourth of July celebration will be held at the Polish parish grounds, with the dedication and blessing of a new American flag and a new Polish banner to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence and the 100th anniversary of the death of Thomas Jefferson, and also the part Poles and Americans of Polish descent played in building and defending our country from the time Thaddeus Kosciuszko came to the Father of His Country and offered his help down to recent times, when Poles literally flocked to enlist and volunteer in the last war to defend America and her sacred liberty and to proceed against unjust aggressors.

On Sunday at noon the whole congregation of the Immaculate Conception on Delaware avenue and their friends in the city at large, with the cooperation of both Polish bands within the parish and the active cooperation by invitation of all societies connected with the membership of the church, will celebrate officially in the most dignified manner the Birth of Our Nation on its 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. This will be a grand rally of all friends and good citizens anxious to see Old Glory go up as pure as ever, and demand loyalty, law and order and respect for the Constitution and American traditions.

As announced last Sunday by the pastor, Father Ignatius Bialdyga, the following societies have been invited to participate: Sacred Heart of Jesus and Mary Society, Thaddeus
Kosciuszko Society, Z. N. P. Polish
Parish Band, White Eagle Band,
White Eagle Society, Z. N. P. St.
Michael Slavonic Society, Polish American Club and the Polish Holy Name Society. Further, this being a civic celebration, Mayor Block has been invited as a guest of honor, and also all officials of the city and county government.

The members of the Grand Army of the Republic, the veterans of the Spanish War, the members of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Fourth Degree Assembly of the Knights of Columbus have been invited to act as guards of honor and to participate in the dedication.

Father Frank M. O'Reilly of Rosendale, the chaplain of Kingston Post, No. 150, of the American Legion, and an officer of the United States Army, is going to be the principal speaker at the dedication ceremony, and the Hon. Clement F. Rozanski and Czeslaw Kozlowski, both of New York, will speak on the contribution of Thaddeus Kosciuszko and Kazimierz Pulawski and all the other unnamed soldiers and citizens of Polish descent and Poles towards the construction and upbuilding of America.

This celebration is arranged in answer to the call made upon all citizens by the committee appointed by the Sixty-ninth Congress to worthily commemorate the 150th year of the Birth of Our Nation and to pay tribute of honor to all who built and made America and to repel any foreign mixture into the body civic and politic by whatever power on earth.

In urging a large attendance on Sunday one Polish citizen of Kingston says: "From many lands we come, many loves we have, but one loyalty to Our Flag and one loyalty to Our Constitution and one loyalty to our land of birth or adoption—America,
Our Fatherland."

Just Say "No"

"The way to win arguments," says a Cass avenue young man, "is to take the negative side. All one has to do on the negative side is to show that nothing can be proved absolutely.
Once that is admitted, the affirmative side must resort to faith, and when it comes to that one belief is just as good as another, except in degree of acceptability. Since my own beliefs are acceptable, at least to me, there is no way to attack them, and so I win the argument."—Detroit News.

Commencement Lutheran School

In accordance with a recommendation of the publicity committee of the Missouri Synod of Lutherans that all its congregations take cognizance of the Sesquicentennial both in church and school, the school-closing and commencement exercises of Immanuel Lutheran School were given over almost entirely to this subject.

After a hymn and the invocation
by the pastor Clarence Buddenhagen delivered the salutatory. This was followed by a sunflower drill by the boys of the lower grades. Then came the Signing of the Declaration of Independence by the honor pupils of grades five to seven. Pearl Saeh-loff (fifth grade) gave the history of events to July 4th, 1776. Then Carl Ehnes took up the events of this momentous day to the reading of the Declaration by Benjamin Franklin and recited the introduction and conclusion of the same. Gertrude Gronmeyer (7th grade) delivered John Adams's address and Anna Witthoef (also 7th grade) concluded the narrative of the stirring events of the day. In both this and the following number Frieda Wendland represented the goddess of Liberty. At the conclusion of the number the audience sang "O Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean." The chief number of the evening was the operetta, Betsy Ross, or, The Origin of the Flag.
The number concluded with the song,
"Good Luck to the New-Born Flag" and "The Star Spangled Banner." All songs were accompanied by the orchestra under the efficient leadership of Gustav Koch.

The program concluded with brief graduation exercises. Frieda Wendland delivered the valedictory. A surprise was sprung in the awarding of prizes. A friend of the school (name unknown) sent $5 for the honor student of the graduating class and $1 for each of the leading pupils of the grades. The prizes were awarded as follows: $5 in gold to Frieda Wendland, and $1 each to Gertrude Gronmeyer (7), Carl Ehnes (6), Pearl Saehloff (5), Raymond Saehloff (4), Anna Fasshender
(3), Olga Schiede (2), Christine Peterson (1). The pastor also presented a token to Gustav Koch on behalf of the orchestra which has made wonderful strides under Mr.
Koch's leadership. Diplomas were awarded to Frieda Wendland, Clarence Buddenhagen, Norman Lindke, Margaret Fasshender, Dorothy Peison—the entire eighth grade being graduated. The exercises of the evening concluded with the hymn "God Bless Our Native Land" and the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Services will be held at Immanuel Church, Livingston street, on Sunday in German at 10 a. m. and in English at 11 a. m. The Sesquicentennial of the Declaration of Independence will be the subject of both sermons. The annual picnic of the school will be held on Monday in Hasbrouck Park.

A VERNAL TRANSMUTATION

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS
By H. IRVING KING

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT
By F. A. WALKER

REASSEMBLING SNAKE

A SNAKE known as the "joint snake" can be cut into pieces, which pieces will reunite into a living snake. This belief is general throughout the United States. In some sections they have a variation of this to the effect that if any snake is cut into two pieces, the part that contains the head will grow on again and the snake be as good as new. Those who believe in this reassembling snake superstition believe in it very thoroughly and regard it not as superstition but as an accepted fact in natural history. Question one of these closely, and while he has never seen the reassembling operation himself, he always knows of some one who has— which some one is generally either dead or "moved away," or if accessible, proves not really to have witnessed the phenomenon, but has it "on the best authority." This superstition is evidently an echo of the old mythological story of that great serpent called by the Egyptians Set—or Apepi and by the Greek's Typhon, the representative and embodiment of the powers of evil. In the Egyptian story Apepi is the great enemy of Osiris, the representative of the beneficent powers, and is at war with him. The myth in its Egyptian form is varied and inconsistent in many ways. The Egyptians in their religion were content to let contradictions and inconsistencies stand calmly side by side. But the gist of the story appears to be with regard to the great serpent that while he was slain by Horus— cut up, say some of the accounts—he reassembled and, coming to life again, renewed the war of evil against righteousness. Here is a truth set forth in fable by Egyptian priests thousands of years ago and as the conflict of evil with good still endures, so, in the guise of a popular superstition, still lingers the myth in which the priests of Osiris clothed it.

WASTING PRECIOUS TIME

THE pleasure loving young men and women who form the harmful habit of loafing when there is work to be done, or waste precious time in pursuit of vanities, are taking great chances with their future.

Although they may not, in the spring-time of life, be apostles of idleness, there will come a day, if they persist in indifference, when they will be recognized as such, and everywhere shunned.

No man or woman can attain cleverness, alertness and brightness of mind while living in a drowsy enervating atmosphere.

Each day ambition drops a little lower. Ideals which were once clear and beautiful, become dim and unavailing.

You may imagine that there is no particular peril in dropping important duties and sneaking away somewhere to smoke a cigarette, but if on return to your desk you will reflect a moment, and impartially examine yourself, you will find that something has been permanently lost.

The continuity of thought has been broken. The threads are awry, frequently very much tangled, and often five, ten or fifteen minutes are required to get the mind going in the smooth, easy running gait it was moving when you stepped out to steal the coveted puff.

The youth who, in the beginning, yields somewhat timidly to such temptations decides after frequent repetitions that he or she is taking no undue liberty. With this thought come the good-by to self-respect, and the proffering of the glad hand to bad habits.

It is not surprising that such youths make shipwrecks, but that any get to port.

And yet such persons are indignant if they fail to be promoted, or cannot leap up at one bound to the heights of proficiency.

For their own thoughtless, erring and untrue selves, they blame others. So thinking, they lose their grip on self-respect, become unworthy of trust, sell their birthright for a mess of pottage and drift out to sea hopeless wrecks at a time they should be booming into port under full sail, strong, sunny and prosperous.

A SYMPOSIUM OF SALADS

SALADS may be made from small amounts of various foods, so arranged and garnished that they are most inviting in appearance.

New Carrot Salad.
Dissolve one-half package of lemonade jello and put to cool in shallow pan, so that it may be cut into small cubes when thick. Grate a cupful of fresh carrot, add a tablespoonful of grated onion and half a cupful of finely minced celery, mix with a good salad dressing and let stand in a cool place an hour to season. When ready to serve alternate layers of the cubed lemon jello with the carrot mixture on lettuce; heap on a spoonful of mayonnaise and serve.

French Dressing.
This is the simplest of all salad dressings and the easiest to prepare. Take good sweet olive oil, three tablespoonfuls to one of cider vinegar, add a pinch of salt, a dash of cayenne and a bit of powdered sugar. Beat with an egg beater until thick and well-blended. Adding chopped pepper, onion and minced parsley to French dressing makes a dressing for salads which is most tasty.

CURED LEGION MAN TO ENTER FRIENDHOOD.

Boston, July 2.—Gratitude for the cure, attributed to the relic of "The Little Flower," which has rescued him from the brink of death, has led Robert James White, American Legion legislative counsel, to forsake the law and enter the priesthood to serve God as thanksgiving for his recovery. It was learned today.

White was rapidly sinking after an operation when the relic was brought to his bedside by the Rev. Joseph A. Keller.

White and four others were plunged into the sea of Catalina Island, Calif., when a seaplane fell. They were rescued.

Women Have Long Lives

Women seem to have made all the recent records for long lives. During the last year the oldest person reported in England was a married woman of one hundred and four. In North America, a French-Canadian woman, Charlotte Nava, who died in her one hundred and tenth year. The first census of Persia, just completed, is said to have revealed a peasant woman who is one hundred and forty-four years old and has a son of one hundred and seven years.

How It Happened

John Smith, Boston, shot off his head while trying to shoot a revolver at a man in the crowd at the store. Capt. Johnson of Boston Police, whom did he come to do that? And of such sortery.

"I didn't get there, but I reckon I was trying to learn to shoot off."

And get as far as off-thrust and quit.—Boston City Times

60% JUNE Sales Gain over greatest previous Nash June

Rounding into the last month of the half year period Nash sales and production raced thru June to pile up a 60% lead OVER the greatest previous volume of June business in all Nash history.

And this record-breaking total also made June 1926, the 22nd consecutive month—with one exception—to surpass the mark set by the same month of the previous year.

The reason Nash is getting the business is simply because people are buying where they get the MOST for the money—in greater VALUE, in greater QUALITY, and in finer PERFORMANCE.

MusicAss'n Needs More Members

225 More Required Promptly If Cleveland Symphony Orchestra Is To Be Included for Season's Concerts—Directors Elect Officers.

At the meeting of the board of directors of the newly incorporated Ulster County Musical Association held at the Advance Restaurant on Thursday evening, the big question considered by the directors was, "How badly do the people of Ulster county want one of the concerts to be given next year to be a symphony orchestral concert?" Music lovers of the community will have to answer that question, and do so very soon before leaving for summer vacations. The renewal of subscriptions to membership and new members have come in so slowly to date that it will require 225 more members to make possible a big orchestra, The Cleveland Symphony Orchestra being the one now in mind. Mr. Brown, representing the Wolfshon Musical Bureau, Inc., was present at the meeting and promised to use his good offices to still get a date from the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, provided the number of members would warrant it, as late as July 15, which is giving the Ulster County Musical Association a real opportunity hard to secure.

The meeting of the board of directors was called to order by the president of the organization before its incorporation, E. E. Fessenden. The following officers were then chosen to serve until the first annual meeting which will occur the last Friday in April of each year: President, E. E. Fessenden; first vice-president, Mrs. C. N. Reed; second vice-president, H. T. Keeney of Saugerties; third vice-president, Mrs. Frank J. LeFevre of New Paltz; treasurer, Harry S. Ensign; secretary, Harry P. Dodge. A constitution and by-laws were adopted.

It was unanimously voted to elect to membership in the association all persons who have paid in their dues of five dollars for the coming year. As other members pay in their dues they, too, will be elected to membership and at the next annual meeting all members will have the right to vote for their board of directors to include nine people, three of whom will serve three years, three of whom will serve two years, and three of whom will serve one year. It was further voted that all receipts of the organization should be deposited in the Kingston Savings Bank for the ensuing year. Had all persons in Ulster county who wish to attend these concerts next year paid in their dues by this time, a helpful little sum would have accrued to the treasury in interest before the year is out.

As to the concerts, if 225 more members can be secured by July 15, it will be possible to have the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, Maier and Pattison, two-piano artists; Cecelia Hansen, the greatest living woman violinist and Maria Kurenko, Russian coloratura soprano, a splendid series of concerts for five dollars.

Falling that number of additional subscribers, either a string quartet like the London String Quartet or an equally fine trio will have to be substituted for the Symphony Orchestra, so it behooves the music lovers of the community who already are members to hurry and interest enough other people to have the Symphony orchestra. The contract for Maier and Pattison was to be signed before Mr. Brown left Kingston, but he made it very plain that July 15 would be positively the latest date that the Association could close for the other contracts. Checks for membership should be sent promptly to Harry P. Dodge, P. O. Box 852, Kingston, N. Y.

The members of the board of directors for this year are: Mrs. Chester, Woodstock; Harry P. Dodge, Kingston; Harry S. Ensign, Kingston; E. E. Fessenden, Kingston; John H. Gregory, Kingston; Mrs. Elsie Knauth, Kingston; H. T. Keeney, Saugerties; Mrs. Frank J. LeFevre, New Paltz; Mrs. C. N. Reed, Kingston.

"Aren't We All" is an English Comedy by Frederick Lonsdale and is laid in Mayfair and at Lord Greatham's country house, a few hours' drive from London. The cast of characters is as follows:

Morton.....William Goodridge
Hon. Willie Tatham.....Norman Foster
Lady Frinton.....Sara Floyd
Kitty Lake.....Eunice Osborne

John Willocks.....John Mahla

Oranges in England

The first record of oranges in England was found in the manuscript of the cargo of a ship, dated 666 years ago. The size of the cargo of oranges is not known, but it is stated that King Edward I (Longshanks) brought seven oranges, as well as 200 pomegranates, 13 citrons, a bale of dates and small quantities of dried raisins and figs.

Cigar Trade Increasing.

Babcock Park, Mass., July 2.—(Special.)—At the 26th annual convention of the Tobacco Association of the U. S., just held at Atlantic City, it was pointed out that China is the largest consumer of the American low grade cigarette. We also note from other sources that our own tremendous increase in the smoking of the cigarette in this country of ours has caused quite a slump in the former flourishing business of selling cigars. On the other hand, the cigar business in this country has steadily improved during the past six months. December, the holiday month, was, of course, the best, but apart from that time we find the past month of April four latest complete figures has been showing the greatest relative value of our retail cigar trade during the past half year. The main point is that the relative value of this important retail business has steadily increased since the first of this year.

Phrase Long in Use

The meaning of the phrase, "Hand is thicker than water," is "Kinship is stronger than friendship, for water evaporates but blood does not." This is a proverb found in May and other Seventeenth-century collections. The expression was used by Scott in "Guy Rimerius," Chapter 28: "You blade's thicker than water. She's welcome to the church and the home just the same."—Literary Digest.

Investigate Two Missing Boarders

Man Leaves Saugerties Hotel, Woman Leaves Sawkill Road Farm House—Both Had Paid Week's Board in Advance.

J. J. Baker, a young man about 25 years old, of New York city, registered at the Maxwell House in Saugerties early Tuesday morning and paid a week's board in advance. He was, according to the hotel clerk, plentifully supplied with money, but had no baggage. He left the hotel about 10:30 that morning after making inquiry regarding swimming places, and that was the last seen or heard of him. The disappearance of Baker was reported to the Saugerties police who have been unable to find him and his whereabouts are a mystery. The suspicion is that he was drowned. The Boy Scouts of Saugerties are aiding the authorities in searching for the missing man. Today Police Captain Richter of Saugerties went to New York to notify the missing man's relatives.

State Troopers were notified of the disappearance of a woman boarder at the Cherry Hill Farm on the Sawkill road and an investigation was made. It was learned that a woman had come to the farm and applied for board for a week, paying a week's board in advance. She appeared at dinner in the evening and evidently retired at night. Next morning when she failed to appear for breakfast an investigation was made and it was learned she had left the place, taking her baggage with her. Her room evidently had not been occupied during the night. As she had paid her board a week in advance, and had not notified the proprietor of her leaving or asked for a refund, it was thought she might have met with foul play or accident. When the Troopers learned that she had taken away her baggage it was evident she had decided to move elsewhere voluntarily for reasons unknown, and the idea of accident was given up.

Railroaders Beat Municipal Nine

Two big innings for U. & D. vanquished the Municipal Nine, 14 to 10, at the Athletic Field Thursday evening. The win put the Railroaders within half a game of first place and put the first four teams still closer together.

Dewey Van Buren, star pitcher for the City, was on the mound. He got off to a bad start, but his support was ragged. The Railroaders nipped him for ten hits, all one-base blows. He gave six a free ride. Long did the most damage in the hitting line, getting three bingles.

Hotaling and Long pitched for the U. & D. Hotaling starting. He lasted for three innings, the third being a stormy one, when the City scored four runs on him. Long relieved him in the fourth and was going along great until the sixth when he was touched for five runs.

The Railroaders two big innings were the first and last, scoring six runs in each inning. Leskie got a hit to open up the first inning. K. Hornbeck walked and Black got a single, scoring Leskie. Smedes walked and Jack Long hit one to left field, scoring K. Hornbeck and Black. F. Williams also got a single. R. Williams struck out. Ellsworth tried to catch Williams off first base and Smedes scored. The City started to throw the ball around and before the smoke died down the bases were cleared, bringing the total up to six runs for the inning. Egelt and Hotaling struck out.

The City also had two big innings, but they were not quite as large as the Railroaders. In the third they scored four runs. In this inning McGraw hit a triple, the longest hit of the game.

The sixth inning saw the City take the lead, when Long got a hit wild and walked three Citymen. He also allowed the City to bunch three hits and score five runs.

They did not hold the lead long for the Railroaders came back extra strong in the first half of the seventh. Van Buren walked three in this inning and was touched for four hits, but a couple of them should have been easy outs. Hornbeck, Long, F. Williams and Ertelt were the hitters. Long getting his with the bases loaded. Previous to the seventh the Railroaders had scored two in the second. The City were sent back in order in their last half.

SIDE-LINERS.

It is getting to be a habit to leave first base uncovered. The score might have been different if somebody was on the initial sack to take a throw from Van Buren in the last inning.

Our old friend Borho came to bat as a pinch hitter in the sixth inning, but he didn't get his usual hit this time. He fanned the breezes.

The outfielders had a tough night. Each one of the U. & D. batters dropped a fly ball.

The Coming Men

A coming man should arrive occasionally. I know one and he is probably the best one on the verge of bankruptcy for years; they have made no progress since I have known them, and bankruptcy will surely get most of them when they become old, and are able to do less promising. A man who is not a little better off at the end of every year, is falling.—W. H. H. Monthly.

Tagging Major League Bases

A five run rally in the seventh inning enabled the Pirates to win from the Cardinals, 7 to 3, for their first victory in nine starts. The victory put Pittsburgh five games behind the Reds and gave Bill McKechnie a good night's sleep for the first time in ten days.

Hack Wilson did a Frank Merriwell against the Reds, socking a homer in the eleventh inning which gave the Cubs the game, 2 to 1. Pete Donohue was the victim.

The Dodgers played true to form behind their star southpaw, Jess Petty, handing the Giants four runs on a platter and losing 5 to 3.

Bob Smith of the Braves got a verdict over Carlson of the Phillies in a pitching duel, 3 to 1. The two clubs are now deadlocked in the great battle for seventh place.

Thirty-five thousand fans saw Washington swamp the Yankees, 12 to 5, in the second game of a double-header after Shocker had beaten Walter Johnson in the opener, 3 to 2.

After being rocked to sleep by Al Thomas for seven innings, the Browns came to life and nosed out the White Sox, 4 to 3, in two rallies featured by Sleser's homer and Melillo's triple. Wingard pitched effectively for St. Louis.

Four members of Connie Mack's $500,000 pitching corps looked like clerks in the five-and-ten when the Red Sox got through with them. The Sox hit everything except the unis and won in a walk, 10 to 5.

Despite the clouting of Manush, who collected a homer, two triples and a double, the Tigers lost to the Indians, 11 to 6. A six run rally in the eighth sewed up the game for Cleveland.

But Keep Out of Reach

The Egyptians believe that crocodiles bring luck, and one of the first lessons taught to their children is that they shall gaze intently upon every crocodile that they are fortunate enough to come across.

None Whatever

With girls making 20 out of a pool of 200 half-pennies, putting the shot 20 feet and doing the 100-yard dash in 11 seconds, there won't be much chance for a man after a while either is dark or rim.

New Haven Club Here Saturday

The Hudson A. C. will be the next outfit to oppose the Colonials in an effort to lower their present mark of .750. The Hudson club which comes here Saturday afternoon is from New Haven. Instead of the usual playing time of Saturday matches, this contest will come off at a twilight battle at 6:30 at the Fair Grounds.

The Connecticut club has made quite a record in the Eastern League district and also does a good deal of traveling in other parts of the country. After playing the locals on Saturday the New Haven crew will go to Middletown for a match.

Boston Black Sox Leading Pitcher

LEFTY STARK.

"Lefty" Stark is the undefeated and leading hurler of the Boston Black Sox of Boston, Mass., who play the Colonial baseball club at the Fair Grounds, Sunday and Monday.

Stark this season has pitched with an average of 11 strike-outs a game, that shut-out the Florence Braves of Florence, Mass., a few weeks ago, 2 to 0, allowing them but a single hit. At Nyack, N. Y., he pitched a three hit game before a holiday crowd of 8,700 paid admissions, and is rated as one of the best colored pitchers in the east. His southpaw hurler has been service with the Bacharach Giants and other big colored nines, and his assignment against the Philadelphia would prove an interesting feature Manager Ed Blanco of the visitors has not decided upon his pitching choice for the two-day campaign.

The Sox gave Chappie Johnson and his band a good wholesome trimming up in Glens Falls, Wednesday. This club which is a combination of colored and Cuban stars sent Chappie's crowd to the showers by a 9 to 2 tally. Since that game the Black Sox have acquired three highly reputed players so what they do in Kingston over the holiday remains to be seen. The Boston Black Sox are not an ordinary colored club by any means and are quartered for the season at Bridgeport, Conn., where they play their home games at the Bridgeport Eastern League ball park. The colored club's engagement with the Philadelphia will last two days. One game Sunday afternoon at 3:30 and two Monday, 10:30 and 3:30. The Boston Black Sox line-up includes such stars as Ramirez of the Lincoln Giants, Benny Woods of the Lincoln and Bacharach Giants, Taylor of the Lincoln Giants, Torrez of the Bacharach Giants, "Lefty" Starks of the Bacharach, Gulfuchi of the Philadelphia Giants; and some of the biggest colored stars in baseball.

Light Title Due To Change Hands

When Rocky Kansas, Ring Veteran at 31, Defends His Title Against Sammy Mandell Saturday at Chicago.

(By Davis J. Walsh.)

New York, July 2.—Old Rocky Kansas, aged exactly thirty-one but with a broken bone for every sock on Broadway, will defend the world's lightweight championship against Sammie Mandell tomorrow afternoon in Chicago, the first bout under the new Illinois law, and apparently everybody is of one mind about the result. Like an impecunious nobleman, who sells his title in matrimony to the highest bidder, Rocky's championship is supposed to have been placed on "sale" the moment he agreed to meet Mandell, only there will be no wedding; merely a punch on the nose, a post-nuptial gesture in some cases.

The idea is that this bout, being Kansas's first in defense of his title, inevitably must be his last; that, shopworn and passe, he is a trick champion and figures to lose his title the first time out and that, therefore, the first gent to get to him was more than passing lucky. I dislike seeing everyone so sure about the transaction.

There is only one thing sure in boxing and that is that nothing is sure. However, I'm just like everyone else. If an old fatfoot like Kansas can beat the fast, game and experienced Mandell, then I'm prepared to break all records for throwing the typewriter from an eight-foot circle. It wouldn't be of any use to me thereafter.

If Kansas happened to be half the man he was four years ago, there would be quite a braunigan tomorrow and anything would be possible. A real good fighter in his day, he could just about "take" any lightweight except Leonard, and even after he was supposed to be through, he had a disturbing habit of shooting from the hip when everyone thought he had his hands up.

New York never will forget him for two great fights he made at the Garden. In 1921, Lew Tendler, then a sensational lightweight, was on his way up to the first of his Leonard fights and went in against Kansas at 4 to 1. The fight marked one of the biggest "killings" Broadway has known. Only a comparative few were in on the Kansas end but they bet all they had, which was a great plenty. Kansas won all the way in fifteen rounds.

Again in 1923, he was supposed to be a push-over for Charley White, whom the Dorgan was trying to megaphone into a Leonard match. Kansas made Charley look foolish and the latter never bothered about Leonard again.

But that was more than three years ago and those years have done Kansas practically no good at all. He now has been in the ring for fifteen years and has appeared in more than 150 fights. Furthermore, he hasn't been "right" since he broke his arm against Leonard in 1922.

He got the title by chance merely because Jimmy Goodrich, the commission-made champion, was so bad. Kansas might have looked good, by contrast, in that fight but in reality he was no better than a boxing derelict could hope to be. Still, he is the world's lightweight champion today. He is almost certain to be something else tomorrow.

WELCOME BOBBY JONES AT NEW YORK TODAY

New York, July 2.—Bobby Jones will be New York's "first citizen" today.

While the Cunard liner Aquitania was steaming toward New York with Jones and his golfing companions, Walter Hagen, Al Watrous and Watts Gunn, the city this morning prepared to acclaim the Atlanta youth as a returning hero, all because he won the British open championship.

Mr. Jones' welcoming committee, members of Jones' family and friends from Atlanta were to take him off the Aquitania on the city steamer Macom at Quarantine this afternoon and escort him up Broadway from the Battery to the city hall where Mayor Walker will extend the freedom of the city to the champion.

McTigue Beat Risko in Ten Slow Rounds.

New York, July 2.—Johnny Risko's pretensions as a heavyweight contender were defeated considerably last night when he dropped the decision to the ancient Mike McTigue after ten slow rounds at Madison Square Garden. The Cleveland, mystified by McTigue's defense, hardly laid a glove on the elusive Irishman. The latter recently was badly beaten by Tiger Flowers, mid-dleweight champion, and knocked out by Jack Delaney.

Last Night's Fight.

At New York—Mike McTigue, former light-heavyweight champion, out-pointed Johnny Risko, Cleveland, 10 rounds.

Honey Boy Finnegan, Boston featherweight, won from Dave Smith, Bridgeport, Conn., 10 rounds.

Jackie Sawyer, New York featherweight, beat Johnny Flood, New York, 10 rounds.

Heavyweight, Nebraska heavy-weight, knocked out Jack Shaw, of the U. S. Marine, in the third round.

At West New York, N. J.—Jimmy Mattie, Buffalo light heavy-weight, defeated Jackie Clark, Allentown, Pa., 10 rounds.

At Hattian, N. S.—Roy Mitchell, Halifax light heavy-weight, won on a foul in the second round from North O'Grady, California.

At Albany, N. Y.—Sergeant Sammie Baker, westerner, defeated Ed Miller, Barren, New York, 10 rounds.

Believe Mehl Was Murdered

Authorities Prepare to Dig Beneath Barns on Mehl Estate For Body of Wealthy Brooklyn Land Owner—Ex-convict Mehl.

New York, July 2.—John W. Mehl, wealthy Brooklyn land owner, was murdered, and his body was probably buried somewhere near his home, in the opinion of police who today started a search for the body.

The authorities are prepared to dig beneath the various barns on the Mehl estate, and to search through sand pits in the neighborhood where the corpse might have been thrown. Samuel Serota, who is held without bail on charges of feloniously assaulting Mehl's sister, Grace, and his daughter, Ruth, and who admits being present during the attack, today refused absolutely to name his companion on the night the assault took place.

The police are working on the theory that telegrams received by Grace Mehl signed with her brother's name since his disappearance, April 29, were fictitious, and were designed to counteract any suspicion which might arise in her mind as to Mehl's fate.

Finally, according to the police theory, Grace Mehl became suspicious and informed Serota, with whom her brother was last seen, that she would notify police if Mehl did not appear. This, the authorities believe, would supply the missing motive for the attack on the women.

Serota, an ex-convict, for some time had been trying to acquire title to Mehl's property, valued at $400,000, but Mehl refused to sell. The theory that the attack was for the purpose of gaining the land is complicated by the fact that Mehl's wife, with whom he has not lived since 1913, would also have to sign the deed to make the title clear. This she already has refused to do.

Two in the Moonlight

Winters in Florida aren't so warm with the warm, mellow moon—the Spanish moss making everything just a trifle hazy.

And few girls were nicer than Sally. Said Sally:

"Oh—I think it is wonderful out tonight. Let's not go in and dance, let's sit out here, just you and I and talk."

Came the answer: "You may, if you wish. I want to dance—see you later."

You don't believe it—but it is true. Because, after all, what fun is there for two girls to sit out in the moonlight together?—Boston Beanpot.

"Straying" Husbands

Strayed husbands in London at the present time number nearly 12,000. "Why husbands leave home and where they go are mysteries," said a district relieving officer. "If they are found, the almost invariable excuse they give is that the wife was 'carrying on.' Some apparently just grow bored with married life, or want a change. One man sent his wife and three children to the seaside for a holiday. When they returned he was gone, bag and baggage, and has not been heard from since."

She Should Have Known

A certain English bishop prides himself on saying the right and tactful word to every person he meets, and by reason of his office he is not accustomed to find his remarks questioned.

"So strange I should run up against you," he said to a woman acquaintance, "because I was chatting only a few minutes ago with your two children."

"But," said the woman, "I have no children."

"Are you sure?" he asked earnestly.

Batik Work Intricate

The Netherlands East Indies produces by the cottage industry method the world-famous batik, or glorified cotton cloth, says Commerce Reports. Cloth used in this industry is imported and distributed in small pieces to the workers, who dye it with an elaborate hand process which produces beautiful and intricate designs. As many as 100 operations are sometimes required before a single piece of cloth is finished. Native batik is now meeting with competition from imported printed cloth.

Foolish Question

HOW IS IT THAT THE FOURTH OF JULY COMES ON THE FIFTH?

Well, anyway, we'll let that pass—
Say, where are you going over the week end?
Nine times out of ten, we bet you're going out riding.
Well, here's another question:
Would you wear a bathing suit to go aeroplane riding?
You bet you would not. Then what's the idea of your wearing that good suit to go out auto riding? There's a time and place for everything and when you go out for a trip over Sunday and Monday, the things you should get are some knickers, khaki clothing, Confy Sneakers, etc., and so on, etc.
Now, if you've read so far, you may as well read the rest of this as what's the sense of leaving this unfinished?

Senate Passes
Dill Radio Bill

Washington, July 2.—Without a record vote the senate today passed the Dill Radio Bill, which creates an independent commission of five members, similar in organization and purpose to the Interstate Commerce Commission, to regulate the licensing and use of radio broadcasting.

The bill now goes to the House where leaders are hopeful of enacting it before adjournment of congress which is set for tomorrow noon.

The Dill Bill takes away from the Secretary of Commerce his present regulatory powers.

Senator Blaise, (D.), of South Carolina, saying he was "on the side of Jesus Christ," introduced an amendment to the bill which would have prohibited discussion of evolution over the radio.

The Senate rejected his amendment by a viva voce vote amid much merriment.

and Commercial

New York, July 2.—Despite the holiday nature of today's session of the stock market, and the decline in speculative activity after the first hour, prices were well maintained, and new forward movements were inaugurated in a number of the active stocks.

Buying demand predominated in the motor, steel, railroad and utility shares, the rise in the eastern gas companies' stocks being the feature of the last mentioned group. A decline in call money rate to 4 1/2 per cent for loans which hold over until next Tuesday emphasized the easing up of the short term money market.

United States Steel sold at a new record high price of 144 1/2 in the second hour. A number of the well known independent steel stocks participated more actively in the rally today, the list including Inland, Republic, Sloss-Sheffield, Gulf States, Republic, Youngstown and Bethlehem.

The Erie stocks were active and strong today, the general assumption being that a favorable revised proposition had been made by the Van Sweringen for the entrance of this road into the Greater Nickel Plate System. Frisco, New Haven and New York Central were also in demand. The motor stocks were quiet, as also were the oils and coppers.

Trading in all departments slowed down after the noon hour, pool movements in Allied Chemical, Texas Gulf Sulphur were continued and Shell Union Oil rose a point to 27 1/2.

Dry League Spent $6,487,291 in
Last Six Years

Through Thirteen States in Its Efforts to Keep Prohibition in the Constitution — Will Withdraw From Halls of Congress if Liquor Interests Will, Says Wheeler.

Washington, July 2.—Towering above the expenditures of even the major political parties, the Anti-Saloon League of America poured out $6,487,291 in the last six years through thirteen state organizations in its efforts to keep prohibition in the constitution, Wayne B. Wheeler, its general counsel, revealed today to the Senate Slush Fund Committee.

Wheeler brought to the committee, financial reports from ten states, where $2,269,970 was spent in that period. Previously he had given the committee reports showing $3,217,321 in the states of New York, New Jersey and Ohio.

Wheeler testified the Anti-Saloon League had sought to raise a $50,000 campaign fund prior to the opening of the congressional primaries this year. His testimony confirmed an exclusive International News Service dispatch of last March, which Wheeler at the time denied. The drive for funds, however, was unsuccessful, Wheeler said.

"I appealed for $50,000 fund to match the $50,000 fund the wets were raising," the dry boss admitted. "But we spent only $500."

Wheeler said he sent $200 to Wisconsin, $200 to Oregon and $150 to Minnesota.

Asks About Lobbying.

Reed and Wheeler resumed their clash of wits when the wet senator questioned the dry leader about his "lobbying" activities in the halls of Congress.

"You got everything you wanted?" asked Reed.

"Not by any means,"

"Then you are still lobbying here in an effort to direct Congress?"

"No, by appealing to Congress in an orderly way for necessary legislation."

"If you didn't look after Congress and take care of it and act as its guardian, it would go plumb to the devil and the country would be wrecked," Reed observed.

"Not by any means," said Wheeler. "If the liquor interests will withdraw, we'll get out tomorrow and leave the question to Congress."

Wheeler admitted that the league both opposed and supported applicants for Federal positions.

"Isn't it a fact that Anti-Saloon League officers, nationally and in the states, have sent direct recommendations about applicants for federal offices?"

"We transmitted the reports from the states on these men to the proper authorities," said Wheeler. "You might call them recommendations."

The American Issue.

Reed then read from the Missouri edition of the American Issue, the league's official organ, telling of "confidential negotiations" being held with federal officials over the question of appointments.

Reed read a statement from the same paper, which said that F. Scott Wolfe was defeated for congress in the 12th Missouri district. It referred to Wolfe as the "drunken congressman."

"That's another one of the libelous, slanderous articles put out by your organization," Reed said.

"Do you call that political work?"

"Yes," said Wheeler.

Reed asked Wheeler whether the league attempted to direct the actions of prohibition agents.

"If you call giving them information, we helped them."

"As a matter of fact, the dry forces have consistently been interfering with the appointment of state and national enforcement officers, and that's the Almighty God's truth, isn't it, upon your oath?" Reed demanded.

"We interfere with them when they try to put across crooked officers," said Wheeler sharply, "and we intend to continue to do so."

Congressman Uphaw Paid.

Wheeler admitted that Congressman William D. Uphaw, (D.), of Ga., had been paid fees by the league while prohibition legislation was pending in congress.

"Nobody thinks that influenced his attitude on prohibition," Wheeler explained.

"Didn't you refer to these payments as honorariums?"

"Yes I said they got their expenses and sometimes an honorarium."

"It wasn't mere dirty money you paid these men—it was an honorarium," asked Reed.

"It was the same kind of money the wets paid their speakers."

"Doctor, why do you always go back to the wets?" Reed queried.

"They were doing it first."

The audience roared a moment later when Reed handed Wheeler a glass of water, lifted a glass to his own lips, and said: "Here's to you doctor."

Wheeler tipped his own glass.

A report on the league's national "campaign fund" was filed by Wheeler on behalf of Andrew Wilson, its treasurer. It showed $2,478,18 in collections and expenditures of $1,576.

Concede Senator Nye's Election

Farm Bloc Leaders Pleased With Result—Another Victory For the Anti-World Court Crowd in the Senate.

Bismarck, N. D., July 2.—With more than two-thirds of the returns from North Dakota's statewide primaries tabulated today United States Senator Gerald P. Nye is leading his opponent, former Governor L. B. Hanna, independent or Coolidge candidate, for the Republican senatorial nomination in both the short and long terms by approximately 10,000 votes.

Nye's election has been conceded by both Hanna and North Dakota papers favorable to Nye's opponent, Governor A. G. Sorlie, Non-Partisan League, was also conceded the gubernatorial nomination on the Republican ticket over J. M. Manley of Mandan, the anti-League candidate.

Districts still to be heard from are normally Non-Partisan. In the congressional contest all three incumbents are ahead. All state offices apparently have been captured by the Non-Partisans.

Nye's political career is without recent parallel in senate history. Barely 34 years old, he was an obscure country editor when Senator Ladd died a year ago. Governor Sorlie rejected all the advice received from Washington to appoint a "regular" and selected Nye for the unexpired term, which so nettled administration leaders here that for weeks they withheld his credentials, and refused to seat him. Ultimately, after a bitter fight, he was given his seat—largely through Democratic votes.

Farm bloc leaders hailed Nye's nomination with joy today. They interpreted it as another "warning voice" from the grain belt to the administration that something must be done for the farmer. Nye supported all measures for agricultural aid.

His victory, incidentally, marked another for the Anti-World Court crowd in the senate. Nye opposed the court. Three senators who opposed the court have now been re-nominated, and four who supported it have now been defeated in the primaries held to date.

Mussolini's New Laws Under Way

Reduction in Cost of Living More Important Than Illusory Increases in Salary With Higher Prices, Says Premier.

Rome, July 2.—Premier Mussolini's great economy drive is well under way today.

Reports gathered from many sections of the country show that while the increased hours of labor had not been formally decreed that they were voluntarily adopted in many trades yesterday without a ripple of opposition.

The Premier has given promise that these increased hours will be only temporary and will be restored to normal as soon as the nation is again on a stable financial and economic basis.

Back of the drive is a move for economy and reduction of prices.

Premier Mussolini has met with a committee of the National Confederation of Consumers and has pledged his support to all measures to reduce prices.

"The reduction of the cost of living is more important to the workers of the nation than illusory increases in salary with prices ever mounting higher," the Premier declared.

Mussolini declared that he would aid in the campaign to eliminate the middleman's profit and strive to bring the producer and the consumer together.

The Premier has also met the Union Labor leaders and urged them to give all support to his projects of reform. "Your highest mission is to uphold the new Fascist civilization within the kingdom and spread the truth about our peace revolution abroad," he said.

Ponzi Threatens To Kill Himself

Unless Governor Fuller Allows Him To Leave Country—Requisition Papers For Ponzi's Return Have Been Signed.

Boston, July 2.—Charles Ponzi, ex-financial "wizard," today telegraphed to Governor Alvan T. Fuller that if the chief executive does not allow him to leave the United States he will commit suicide.

Ponzi added that he is a subject of persecution and for that reason believes the governor should deal with him leniently.

The plea by Ponzi who is being held in Houston, Texas, asking official clemency upon "condition that he leave the country at once and forever," was refused by Governor Fuller, according to an exchange of telegrams made public.

Combines Duty and Joy

Many things that once seemed essential and indispensable have been abandoned in our hurried times; but there are a few things that we cannot give up without tragic loss. One of these is little likelihood that we shall ever abandon this, when we have once discovered that it is not only a duty and a privilege but a joy.—Christian Science Monitor.

Imitation Forbidden

It is against the law to use any paper money which bears a resemblance to United States money. Any paper money which is used on the stage or for other purposes of this nature must be approved by the chief of the secret service, Treasury department, Washington. A stage authority says that most of the paper money which is used on the stage is genuine money.

Cobra Most Deadly

The cobra de capello of southern Asia is considered the most deadly of venomous serpents. It is exceedingly numerous, especially in India and Ceylon, and its bite is almost surely fatal. More than 23,000 persons were killed by snakes in India in 1923, the cobra accounting for most of them.

WDBZ to Take Summer Rest

No church services will be broadcast by Station WDBZ during July, as the Fair Street Reformed Church is closed for the month and no other church has the equipment necessary for broadcasting.

It is possible that WDBZ will give a concert next Wednesday evening, but not certain. The station will then sign off until September, except that morning services will be broadcast in August, beginning with the second Sunday in that month. The operator of WDBZ is taking a vacation out of town during July which is one reason why the station will close. Another reason is the difficulty of securing programs during July and August.

"Easy as Pie"
This expression is supposed to be elliptical, the complete expression being "as easy as eating pie." It probably refers to the fact that most of us, especially in our younger days, find little trouble in eating pies made by mother.

HOW TO GIVE "TEA FOR TWO"

--- By a Bride ---
NEVER invite a man to tea unless you are prepared to make a good impression.
And that'll require plenty of sandwiches and cakes—for a real he-man consumes more parlor food in an afternoon than you'd eat in a week.
And be sure to have plenty of knives and forks and spoons—for he'll drop whatever piece of silver you have least of... I've never known it to fail.
But most important, your silver should be the very best looking pattern you can find.
Speaking of good-looking things, you'd better drop into our shop and see the beautiful silver and jewelry we have—among them that stunning new "TRIUMPH" pattern in Wm. Rogers & Son silverplate.
